

Education As An Investment

Barnali Sharma

Assistant Professor

West Guwahati College of Education

Key Features of Education As An Investment

- Upfront Costs

Education requires a significant upfront investment of time, effort and money.

- Long-Term Benefits

Education provides long-term benefits that can last throughout the lifetime of every individual.

Continued.....

- Risk and Return

Education also involves some degree of risk and return.

- Diversification

Education can also be seen as a way of diversifying one's investment portfolio

- Continuous Learning

Education is a continuous process

Quality of Education As a Quality of Life

- No country can achieve sustainable economic development without substantial investment.
- Education also enriches people's understanding of themselves and the world.
- It improves the quality of life of the individuals and leads to broad social benefits to individuals as well as the society.
- It also plays a crucial role in securing economic and social progress and improving income distribution.

Role of Education in Quality of Life

- Education is the source of knowledge, skills, capacities etc.
- Education also serves as a light of life.
- It helps to create awareness by removing misconceptions.
- It helps to attain quality of life as educated people get better quality of life than the uneducated ones.
- People can develop their knowledge and skills through education.
- Educated people also have chances to get the employment opportunities which helps them to maintain their quality of life.